General Information

Business portrait sessions typically last half an hour to an hour, although we have no time constraints on the amount of time per job and will take as long as necessary to achieve the desired look. A variety of clothing is encouraged as we want you to have options in the selection process.

Image Branding Packages

Image branding tells a story of an individual with photographs. Think less business portrait, and more photos used with a story in a magazine. The story told can be about an individual in their business environment or involved in any activity. No matter what the story is, the purpose of the photographs is to provide positive image branding for your business.

Portrait retouching is included on one image. Images may also include details of the business environment or activity that adds to the telling of the story. Copyright use permission is given for web and local use, we do ask for photo credit.

These photos can have a very exciting and positive influence on your business. Please feel free to talk to us about your ideas.
