About our Dance Teams...

Serious students who share in the same intention of working hard, improving technique, and love to perform should consider joining one of our many dance teams. There are no additional costs for classes, but are required to take additional classes and pay a competition fee.

Company students will compete in two local competitions each year, (newer teams, only one) and must participate in at least one local dance workshop. Our dance teams will also have the opportunity for a travel performance every other year.

All company students are required to tryout each year, purchase a team jacket and must continue to take ballet class to support and improve their technique. Students are sometimes invited to perform at other local events in our community throughout the dance season.

Some of our past travel performances include Walt Disney World in 2012, 2014, 2016, and Hershey Park, PA in 2018. Some of our teams will attend their first National competition this July, 2019. Our next team performance adventure will be at Universal Studios in Nov, 2020. These opportunities are just another way for our students to connect, learn and grow through their experiences.
